Faces Reflect

Showing the ivory are lookalikes Byron Talman and Octavia Poole.

Caught! Tatum Valverde glances up from opening her locker in Nash Hall.

"The Three Amigos" sport their Easter bonnets as they head out on the trail of Chem thieves.

Principal Gene Clare chows down on one of the Senior Class hotdogs during lunch time.
Reflecting not one, but two boys, is Michelle Jones.

Nathan Odell and Sally Bickford help serve BBQed hotdogs to students and staff.

School news is never hard to find. Two Seniors check out the Lion’s Roar.

Tricia Eby cries, “Help me, I’ve fallen and can’t get up!”
Carlos Ortega and Angela Wilson reign as King and Queen.

Waiting patiently, the royal court enjoy each others' company.

Top 5, Mario Rodrigues and Shannon Elmore.

Strolling down the runway are members of Top 10.

Students Select Wilson, Ortega
Erin Spears shows her delight about being a Top 5 member of the royal court as she smiles for the camera.

Caught before ceremonies is the soon to be announced Queen.

Matt Klutz receives his Top 10 corsage before the rally.

Arm-and-arm, Chris Campbell escorts Heather Abono.

Receiving tremendous applause are Top 5 Byron Talman and Ann Nebergall.
Ladies of the Freshmen Class show '94 spirit.

MICHAEL J. ZULAWSKI
As the class of 1991 wraps up high school, they reflect on their past four years, and how successful they have been.

In 1988 we entered High School not knowing what to expect but being the energetic and eager class we are it didn’t take long for us to learn. Our first job was to elect officers. Elected as our freshman officers were Laurie Peters, president; Octavia Poole, vice-president; Shannon Elmore, secretary; and Julie Stranahan, treasurer. Right after elections our class started working on our first Homecoming float which we gave the theme “Flush the Dons.”

The competition was very fierce and our float came in fourth place, however that did not discourage our class any. We put on a profitable ’50’s Dance and in the Spring had a successful car wash. Before the year was up, we had another set of elections. This time elected as our sophomore officers, were Kami Mendes, president; Don Blair, vice-president; Tina Peterson, secretary; and Julie Stranahan, treasurer.

With a new set of officers and a new school year beginning, our Class of ’91 looked back at what we had learned our Freshman year and used it to win first place for our float. Our theme was “Freeze the Devils.” Pulling off this theme we had a giant igloo with a penguin standing tall next to it. Getting first place our sophomore year gave our class a lot of confidence that we had what it takes to do great things. After Homecoming, our Sophomore Class got busy and had two candy sales, a bake sale, and a car wash before the year was up. With some of the money we had a beautiful Sophomore Junior Prom. The Prom theme was “Ballroom Elegance” and was carried out with all black and white balloons and a decorated gazebo in the middle of the dance floor. Halfway through the night Sally Bickford was announced our queen and Patrick Luna as our king. The whole night was very special for all of us. Before leaving for summer vacation we elected Jennifer Heath, president; Scott Carpenter, vice-president; Shannon Elmore, secretary; and Tara Rosselli, treasurer for our junior year officers. Our high school carrier was now half over.

Just like our sophomore year we started off our junior year with a bang. Since we only had a single advisor in Mark Gates, we asked Mrs. Debbie Strance to assist our current advisor and we were lucky to have her accept. With two advisors and a new year beginning we started to work on Homecoming. Spirits grew among our class as we all began to work as a team instead of a bunch of individuals. We had been together for two years and we began to feel like a family. This feeling was evident in the spirit our class emitted from the beginning winning the class yell at one of the first rallies, something done usually only by the seniors. As Homecoming approached, we worked on our float that had the theme “Fry the Falcons” and started to put together the traditional bottom ten ski, a huge hit as usual. Our float won us a respectable second place and that wrapped up another successful Homecoming. To raise money for our upcoming Junior Prom and future senior year we had a candy sale, a “Turn About Dance” (that was a blast), and then a jewelry sale toward the end of the year. About the same time as we were working on the Junior Prom, our class also worked on another big project this time in union with the Class of ’90. Our two classes worked hard to convince the School Board to continue allowing the seniors at Liberty to go to Disneyland for Grad Nite. Disneyland had changed Grad Nite from a Friday to a Thursday causing the seniors to miss two days of school instead of one. The Board ended up standing by their decision to no longer allow seniors to go to Grad Night during the school year after the Class of ’90 graduated. But we could be proud of how hard we had tried and worked hand in hand with our upperclassmen. Our Prom that had gone on at the same time was also something to be proud of. It had the theme “A Night in Paradise” and with the help from the Sophomore Class we worked from five to twelve the night before and then came back at nine the next morning to finish. In the end we had the cafeteria transformed into a beautiful paradise with white palm trees, green plants, a fountain, and crepe-paper streamers almost everywhere. Before our junior year was over we had our last set of elections for our senior officers. Elected for this last year were Sally Bickford, president; Scott Carpenter, vice-president; Julie Stranahan, secretary; and Tara Rosselli, treasurer.

As seniors we did just what we had set out to do by starting our last year of high school with a boom and never slowing down. Picking a class theme of “Class of ’91 Need we say more?” we did just that. Working night and day on our Homecoming float that had the theme “Level the Devils” we won second place with our steam-roller (that really moved) and two bigger-than-life lions, one behind the wheel of the steam-roller and the other standing tall at its side. A couple of weeks before Homecoming, at the Top Ten rally the Homecoming court was announced and then the day of Homecoming, the king and queen were crowned. First to walk out were the Top Ten consisting of Heather Abono, Stacia Meadows, Kami Mendes, Tina Pederson, Jennifer Pueblo, Julie Stranahan, Tatun Valverde, Chris Campbell, Debbie Dubra, Maria, and Doug Medina. Then the Top-Five consisting of Sally Bickford, Shannon Elmore, Ann Nebergal, Erin Spears, Angela Wilson, Carlos Ortega, Stacy Pereria, Mario Rodriguez, Sean Smith, and Byron Talman walked out. After sitting down with boxes of roses, Carlos Ortega and Angela Wilson were found to be holding the red roses that signified that they were the king and queen. We finished Homecoming with first place over all and swept off to continue our senior year. To raise money for our upcoming Senior Ball we had two more candy sales, a hot dog sale, and a slave action.

In order to assure that all seniors received information about the Senior Ball, awards night, Baccalaureate, Graduation, and more. The administration organized a first ever Senior Assembly; starting the way for many first evers for our Senior Class of 1991.

In the first time ever at Liberty Union High School, the Senior Ball took place on a ship called the “City of San Francisco”, of the Hornblower Yacht Lines. It departed from Pier 33 in San Francisco. It was a beautiful night. For days before the dance there had been much worry among seniors and their dates about strong winds and possible rain that might occur. All we saw from standing on the top deck or from the windows of the decks below was a beautiful starry night and the lights of the different cities on the shore reflecting on the calm waters of the Bay making our theme “Sea of Love” come true.

After the Senior Ball, our class went for the first year ever on a Senior Trip to Manteca Water Slides. When the morning of Graduation came our class had a first ever Senior Breakfast. At Graduation Gretchen Strauch was honored as Valedictorian and, for the first time in many many years, two people shared the distinction of Salutatorian. These two people being Octavia Poole and Don Blair. As our student speaker, Kim Puccinelli gave a very moving speech that stirred the emotions of the graduates and their guests. The all-night “Grad Night” was its usual huge success with a Casino, food, dancing, and games to help make it a memorable night.

To end the year in one more first time ever, seniors went on a school sponsored trip to Disneyland the week after Graduation to make up for the cancellation of the regular Disneyland Senior Grad Night. Not only did they go to Disneyland but they also had breakfast out and then a day at the water slides.

As the Class of 1991 can now only reflect on their High School experience. It seems that they had a class to really be proud of. As always in life they had things they wish they could have done differently; and things the class wishes they could experience yet again. High school has been a time for this class to grow, for them to grow up, grow together, and in some cases grow apart. The memories they created at Liberty Union High School will remain with them forever as a time they can look back to and smile reflectively, because they had the energy and enthusiasm to make it the best four years they could.

Leading the Junior Class is Daniel Fettig, president; Christi Andronico, vice-president; Theresa Kortuem, treasurer; and David Novero, secretary. Advisors are Carolyn McLaughlin and Mike Jacobson.

Although the Junior Class did not place in the annual Homecoming float competition, their float which read, “Drop the Devils!” was well thought out and constructed. Due to time constraints, the Juniors were not able to put the finishing touches that were necessary to place.

This year, as is true every year the Juniors did their hilarious rendition of our rivals Top Ten. You may have noticed that there was something missing this year in the skit. For years the Juniors have had a character “Betty Bondage” in the skit; this year it was requested that Betty be removed.

During Homecoming the juniors competed with the other classes and placed as follows: Bat Swing, third place; Egg Toss, second place; Skateboard Race, third place; Tug of War, third place; Relay Tricycle Race, second place; Float, fourth place; Tricycle Race, second place; Water Balloon Toss, first place; Volleyball, third place.

This year the Junior Class was in the fundraising mood, with candy sales, a class car wash, and Santa and Valentine Grams which were delivered with candy canes and the latter with carnations.

The Sophomore/Junior Prom voted on “Rhythm of the Night” for their theme and the cafeteria was decorated nicely in black and white. The Juniors had a pretty good year, and are looking for a better one next year.

SOPHOMORES-CLASS OF 1993

With the help of Advisors, Mrs. Lorraine Anderson; Mrs. Hilary Pedrotti; and the leadership of Eric Taylor, president; Carlyn Enos, vice-president; Estela Diaz, secretary; Hilary Strauch, treasurer, the Class of '93 had a great year.

The sophomores, with one Homecoming under their belts, expanded their participation in it by placing well in the week's activities. Further using their experience and vision, they constructed their float, “The Devils Downfall '93”, an Angel Lion hurling bolts of lightning at a Devil and placed third.

During Homecoming the sophomores competed with the other classes and placed as follows: Bat Swing, second place; Egg Toss, first place; Skateboard Race, third place; Tug of War, second place; Relay Tricycle Race, third place; Float, third place; Tricycle Race, fourth place; Water Balloon Toss, fourth place; Volleyball, third place.

In early October the sophomores were excited as they ordered their class rings from Richard Dix of Jostens. Followed by a long wait they finally received them in December.

In the spring the sophs joined the Class of '92 to feel “The Rhythm of the Night” at the Sophomore/Junior Prom. Turning the corner into the second half of their high school career the Class of '93 prepares to make the next two years even better.

Freshmen Exchange Feelings, Ideas

Listening, exchanging ideas among friends, and being part of a larger group than ever before are just some of the things that freshmen need to either learn or having learned use even more. The Class of 1994 arrived on campus in mass in August and were treated to an orientation and later a walk-thru to get them off on the right foot.
Freshmen, just the thought is scary for some; some upper classmen that is. When school first started in September, it seemed that wherever you looked you were sure to find a freshmen. With 507 of them running around and making up almost one-third of the student body, you can understand why the Class of 1994 was a class to be reckoned with. Led by Danyel Garcia, president; Matt Blasingame, vice-president; Christina Busker, secretary; Betsy Gonzalez, treasurer; and advisors Mr. Jerry Black and Ms. Linda Ghilarducci; the Freshmen Class proved that working together is better than a one-person effort.

After taking last place in the Homecoming Week activities, the freshmen started to believe that they couldn't possibly beat their upper classmen who were experienced in how the week's activities worked, and most of all, how to build a float. The officers got together and figured out that the only way they could show their opponents they weren't losers was by bringing together what they had the most of, and that was people. They got off to a slow start and, not even knowing how to make flowers, soon managed to put together what the other students said looked like a boat. Well a boat it wasn't. When finished, the float was a cherry-red, hot-rod convertible with gold flames that left a devil in the dust of its backfire. "Backfire the Devils" was the theme of the float.

When halftime came on Friday night, the surprising results were announced and the Class of '94 had taken the coveted first place.

After Homecoming was over and gone, it was time for the ninth grade class to learn a little about fund raising. Throughout the year they had two candy sales to start a very nice budget to carry over for next year's activities. Over all the freshmen had a pretty productive year and are looking forward to their future years at Liberty.
Reflecting both tradition and a spirit to try something new, ACTIVITIES played an important role in most of the lives of students and staff. Even before the first day of school, seniors were photographed, freshmen were oriented, and all classes went through the Walk Thru. Closing out Sophmore/Junior Prom on June 14, yet in the months between saw a busy campus with a multitude of activities.

Dances were an important mirror of student life. Kim Becerra was crowned FFA Sweetheart at the Barn Dance, Carlos Ortega and Angela Wilson shared the honors as king and queen at Homecoming and the Dance. The Sophomore/Junior Prom was to be tagged as Sophomore king and queen at the Sophomore/Junior Prom in the spring.

Tradition was both set and broken as the Class of '94 soared to a victory in the Homecoming Parade, the Senior Class observed Baccalaurate Mass in the Chapel, Graduation, and a new recognition evening was organized by incoming principal Gene Clare.

Continuing as in years past, the Performing Arts Department hosted two plays, students participated in the Spelling Bee, argued in Mock Trials, published news in the 'Lions' Roar', and hosted both a Speech Tournament and Chicano/Latino Youth Leadership Conference. Both the vocal and instrumental groups recognized their top performers with Shannon Page tabbed as the Jenny Lind winner in choir and Amy Blanton later named the John Phillip Sousa recipient for band. Octavia Poole was selected as the Student-Athlete of the 19'93 by the Brentwood Lions' club while Mario Rodriguez and Monica Barajas were named Yearbook Athlete Award winners as the top senior male and female athletes.

Closng not one but two Salutatorians, Don Blanchard and Andrew Galaviz, the Class of '93 also named Gretchen Strauch as Valedictorian and Kim Puccellini as Graduation Speaker.

With a new principal also began a new tradition as the yearly Scholarship Evening became just that, with an additional Academic Achievement Evening. This evening was designed so that the evening recognized seniors only and with scholarships and awards while the academic achievement evening covered all four classes in a variety of accomplishments from the halls of learning to the playing fields.

Earlier in the spring the Class of '93 set even another record as they not only journeyed to San Francisco for their Senior Ball but also boarded the Hornblower Yacht “City of San Francisco” for their dance. The Hornblower Yacht under the Golden Gate Bridge saw the Class of '93 as they sailed over the waters of the bay. The ship returned at 11 for those who wished to go ashore or those who had arrived late and still wanted to go on board. Part of the cruise was under the Golden Gate as the stars shown brightly and the lights of the city sparkled in the evening air.

At the Academic Achievement Evening held in June, the prestigious Yearbook Award was given to Mario Rodriguez and Monica Barajas for the outstanding Senior Male and Female Athletes as over 140 students were recognized for achievement both in the classroom and sports.

One of the new things that highlighted activities for the school year were rallies both in Stonebarger Gym and outside on Ohmstead. Outside rallies were necessitated by the ever-growing student population which exceeded 1650 this year. Some inside rallies were held twice in the same week.

KLEO continued to provide a variety of tunes for the lunch time activities and just plain lunches as well. FNL became even larger and more active and were instrumental in bringing Michael Pritchard for a rousing assembly; they also helped sponsor the Prom and Homecoming dances.

School counselors, who helped promote their concepts along with other components with their theme for the year of "Success is a journey not a destination." In reflection the students and staff were busy with activities this year.

Reflections Pages

From reflecting smiles on friends' faces to reflections captured on film both in the yearbook and on video tape, the yearbook staff worked hard to carry out this year's theme "Reflections".

After much debate in September, the staff chose the theme and then designed a cover to carry it out.

To carry out the theme throughout the book, the staff chose pictures on opposite pages that mirrored or reflected each other in content or composition and made them the same size and shape. Headlines on some pages, such as this one, started out and mirrored themselves with key letters.
Letters such as "Reflections" and "Reverses", "Pages" and "Pictures" help to capture the mood and spirit of the theme. On this, our theme page, the staff used all of the components to illustrate the theme "Reflections of".

All of the pictures are reflected on the opposite page in size, composition, and shape. In addition both the headlines and this body copy are mirrored.

We hope that you look for and enjoy the theme and especially the yearbook. We worked hard to carry it off and some of the theme reflections are quite subtle; look for them carefully throughout the book and find delight in it.

Reflecting on last year's accomplishments, three teams repeated as Champions. For the first time ever a Liberty team captured back-to-back North Coast League Championships as the wrestling team turned the trick. The girls' varsity basketball team captured their division championship. And the varsity softball team roared through the competition winning the league championship with a perfect 16-0 record.

The girls track team was also perfect in league with a 5-0 mark and brought home a championship for the first time in thirteen years. The jv girls' basketball team was near perfect during their season losing only their final game to go 24-1 and a championship.

Three teams also made playoff rounds this year with softball being the most successful. The volleyball team captured the first game of their playoffs and the softball team lacked but a single victory of going to the finals of North Coast.

New faces and teams for the sports scene this year were in cross country as three different coaches worked with the team during the season. The boys' varsity basketball team had a new coach in Rick Melgoza. And brand new to the Lions was both a new sport, girls soccer, and their new coach, Tony Smith. The girls' track team was graced with a new coach with the addition of Vickie Simmons.

Individually some of the Lion athletes garnered awards for their efforts. Yogi Leake wrestled and clawed his way to third in the state meet. Both Luis Lino and Danielle Miles made it to the state trials in track in the pole vault and shot put respectively. Liberty also saw two athletes named League MVP as Julie Stranahan was tabbed co- mvp in basketball and Christie Coalter was named softball mvp. In swimming, Monique Renslow surpassed all divers and captured first in the North Coast Diving competition. Brian Soczka was successful in reaching the North Coast competition in golf. Both Rafael Lino and Joe Calderon qualified for North Coast in cross country. Monica Barajas and Mario Rodriguez were named Yearbook Female and Male Athlete Award winners and Octavia Poole captured the coveted Scholar-Athlete Award from the Brentwood Boosters Club.

Liberty athletes worked hard to make it a successful season for their respective teams as both the Stonecharger and Lou Bronzan Invitational Tournaments continued to draw large crowds and delight participants.

Following is a list of all the awards that were given by the school to all of the athletes in all sports:

With the opening of school in September came a rush of new faces and new responsibilities for some old ones.

Starting with the replacement of Jack Ferrick as principal the changes accelerated as the school year moved into the new decade. Joining the administrative staff from Indio High School in Southern California as our new principal was Gene Clare. He came into the job shortly after both his old and new school graduated the Class of '90. Mr. Clare moved to Oakley with his wife and two daughters. He spent most of the summer learning the personnel and physical layout of his new school and deciding on changes to implement once the school year began.

Along with a new principal came a flood of new teachers to replace retirees and meet the growing needs of the school community. Joining the English Department was long-time substitute teacher, Kim Elder with both frost and junior English. New to the campus and school was Tobin Brothers to handle English Skills and sophomore English. The Mathematics Department saw the addition of two new teachers as well as the arrival of Nancy Wall , Algebra, Plane Geometry, and Mastery Math and Stephanie Soltero, Plane Geometry, Alger- bga, and Department Chair. Also joining the Spring Semester, freshmen math class size was lowered and Carolyn Nelson was hired to handle the newly created classes. Carolyn had previously taught at Liberty. In the Foreign Language Department Chairwoman Nancy Salsig welcomed Deborah Mocar and Araceli Mocar to Spanish 1 and Espanol. Two new members joined the Special Education Department with Gary Lee handling the Special Day Classes in English, Life Science, Economics, Government, and Math; while Ray Sands taught the special education classes in English, Math, and Government.

Because of the largest Freshmen Class in the school's history another health teacher was added and long-time assistant coach and Head Coach Dennis Hitchens came on board as a full-time teacher as well. A new elective, social studies freshmen class prompted the addition of another teacher and Rick Riordan joined the staff as the new Geography class teacher as well as handling other classes in Frosh and Senior English. Coming over from across the street and the Alternative Ed/Adult Ed/Independent Study Camp- pus, Mrs. Dias took over the Bilingual and ESL classes as well as shuffling the role as Azteca Club Advisor. A new addition to the Homemaking and Business Department was Lorraine Maxson who handled two periods of typing as well as her three period assignment in Home Economics. This was one of the largest influxes of new teachers in three years and it seemed to call for different methods to orient them to the district and its curriculum.

Making a radical change in the new teacher orientation. Mr. Clare took charge of it and directly involved staff into both the Mentor Teachers and Department Chairs. After the formal introduction to the school policies and lunch, the new teachers were taken on a bus tour of their district. During the school year the new teachers met with a core group on a regular basis. Large meetings of all the new teachers, mentors, administrators, and some department chairpeople were held on a monthly basis. These large, monthly meetings allowed an interchange on ideas and teaching strategies. The mentors continued to work with new and returning teachers on an individual basis as necessary.

Selected by Anna Grant and Ginger Diehl as English Department Chairperson, the search was on to find a suitable replacement. After the filing and interview process, Emma Shank was selected to head the department.

District Office needed Joyce Dellimore to handle more administrative responsibilities regarding Special Education, a new department chairperson was needed. In the middle of the school year, Carol Aines was tabbed as the new Special Education Department Chairperson.

At the district level there were two major changes. With the retirement of Wanda Lathrop at the beginning of the school year, a new Business Manager was needed at once. After an exhaustive examination of available candidates, Bill Dalrymple from Modesto was chosen and came on board in December. Replacing Maggie Fajardo as Transporation Supervisor was Cindy Slack. (CAEA and LEA) for the school year were Gerri Bottoms and Bill Batz, respectively. Rounding out the LEA Executive Board were Marian Leknes, vice- president; Tim McHugh, secretary; and Jeanne Glenn, treasurer; Kaye Axelgard-Reeves, past pres- ident. Kaye Axelgard-Reeves, Greg Ciapponi, Doreen Forlow, and Jeanne Glenn, were the Unit Bargaining Team members for the teachers' association.

Changes in the administrative responsibilities by the new principal included designating Cathy Dickey as Curriculum Coordinator for the school year. She was joined by one from the Business Office, Greg Wright as Counseling. In addition each Assistant Principal was to handle a part of the whole student body in respect to discipline with Cathy, A-B; Bonnie, L-Z; and Greg, C-K.

Along with additions to the staff came one resignation. Miss Susan Van Wagenen, Secretary, Julia Are. Julia who joined the staff as a counselor also was the CSF advisor and decided to retire when the district offered additional years of credit towards her retirement. Julia was honored at the staff luncheon in June. With the resignation of a former staff, Mr. Clare initiated a new Social/Staff Club at the start of the year. For just a single buck, certificated staff members could join and help plan a variety of activities that included pot lucks, a float at Homecoming, and an end of the year luncheon. In addition, the Staff Club sold coffee in the morning and sponsored a turkey contest at Thanksgiving.

Physically, the school continued to undergo a huge transformation as one new building after another opened. The Callaghan Library reopened with double the usable floor space for students and staff. The addition to the library included new equipment and seating as well as new display cases for the new and expanded science sections. The Jack Ferrick Science Building, newly named, opened for business as did the Math Wing. Both of these buildings were dedicated at a ceremony in March. Since the old Scott Hall classrooms were to be converted to science, the new math wing was rededicated as Scott Hall in memory of Herb Scott. Off campus, yet a part of the school, was the opening of the new District Office Building on Oak Street.

Shortly after the new District Office opened the old one was bulldozed as was the burned-out coun- seling office. Both buildings were removed for the addition of the new Performing Arts Building and Theatre that began to go up as soon as the March rains ended and the ground dried out. The start of this building necessitated a change in the parking habits of many and a new entrance into the front staff parking lot off Second Street.

The staff continued to develop at the state level, reverberations were felt in all parts of education and Liberty was no exception. For the first time Department Chairpersons helped build the Master Schedule from the ground up. Because of the anticipated cuts in the next year's budget, both the teachers and personnel in both classes and personnel. The Ag Department, under the supervision of Don Lopez was cut from two classes to one; the Homemaking Department, under the leadership of Jeanne Glenn was cut by a full teacher; in the Business Department, headed by Reta Prieto; another teacher was lost to budget cuts; in the Industrial Arts, chaired by Bob Gonzalez, another five classes were axed but no staff was cut. The Foreign Language Department, guided by Nancy Salsig, saw a reduction in sections and teachers. While both the Math Department, Joanne Nash; and English Department, Ernestine Campbell, saw an increase in class sections, some of them were reinstated before the end of the school year. Two departments grew slightly in sections as Science, led by Bob Glenn and Social Science, Bill Batz added just a few classes. Head- ing up the other departments were Kaye Axelgard- Reeves, (CAEA and LEA) for the teachers, Fine Arts; and Bob Smith, Performing Arts.

The students were not exposed to changes before the end of the school year as most of them were anticipated ones. Class size was expected to grow especially in the Math and English Departments as funding for smaller ones was gone. Students were faced with major scheduling problems as the school day was shortened from 7 periods to 6. The Core Classes concept had to be shelved for at least a year as funding sources dried up. Because of a mandate from the state class periods would have to be lengthened for '91-'92 from 50 to 56 minutes. As classes are unable to grow in the current format the CASL board, in order to be in compliance. School was scheduled to start at 8:15 with dismissal still scheduled for 3.

During the summer, the major revamping of the campus included the landscaping phase of construction. New sidewalks were scheduled to be widened and the center, quad area was to undergo a major face-lifting.

With the future of Prop 98 in doubt, as this book went to press, the future of Liberty, and in fact the future of education in California, in general continued in limbo. The new governor, Pete Wilson, and the legislature continued to look for creative ways to finance the growing state and its needs. Four students from one of the government classes traveled to Sacramento to visit and lunch with the Republican legislators and governor. The four were sponsored by a local club and joined almost 800 students in the capital.

Feeling Spring in the air and the close of school rapidly approaching, Mr. Clare announced the consolidation of four departments, Ag, Business, Home Ec, and Industrial Arts; into a single Vocational Education Department to be headed by one person; and the consolidation of two departments, Fine Arts and Performing Arts Department, also to be headed by a single chairperson. In addition to those major changes, Mr. Clare announced that all department chair jobs would be vacated and filled on a four year cycle and that except for Math, English, and Special Education, all chair, were open for application. All present members of the various departments as well as existing chairs were invited to submit a letter of intent to apply and go through an interview process.

The principal's newsletter continued to be sent out monthly and was used to keep them apprised of activities on campus and upcoming events.

The Mentor Teacher Program continued for the school year yet seemed to be destined to be a victim of budget cuts for '91-'92. The mentors for the year were Bill Batz, Tim McHugh, John Redenbach, and Lorraine Maxson.

Reflecting on the school year and the staff, the yearbook finds them a group of hard-working, dedicated professionals striving for the best education possible. Hard-working professionals and support staff that include the bus drivers, the secretaries, the teachers, the janitors, the cooks, the maintenance men, gardeners, administrators, aides, custodians, teachers, librarian, and parents and others who all helped to make Liberty a place worth attending.

ASB officers relax with each other after a busy day.

Two seniors discuss fall events on campus.

Clowning around on Halloween is Felix Sandifer.

Chasing the ball, Jose Ruiz intends to score.

Mr. Gene Clare is caught at lunch in a good mood.

Concentration! Nate Odell tries not to set the lab on fire!
Returning to school meant another year of work to most students. To the seniors it meant fun. In their last year of high school, they took the lead and set examples for other classes to follow. Fall isn't just the excitement of Homecoming, it's Halloween and first of the year fund raisers. As the days crept into November, seniors stressed over college applications, juniors signed up for SATs, sophomores rejoiced in getting driver's licences, and freshman discovered that the chances of getting "trash canned" were slim. December gave the students the ever needed Christmas Break. As fall sports ended and winter began, girls participated in a new sport, Girl's Varsity Soccer, another sign of changes to come.
Sunglasses appear on many during Homecoming Days. Tessa Pulling and Shara Wilson pose near the end of Nash Hall. Perplexed by a mass of directions, this girl looks for help in sewing. Assistant Editor, Medea Poole always had a bright smile.
Mike Monts gets into it on Crazy Day.

LEA President, Bill Batze shares a laugh on Opening Day.

Carolyn McLaughlin shows off one of her classroom friends.

Debbie Waller concentrates on her science homework.

Students congregate at different locations around campus to exchange stories about the day and discuss plans for the evening or weekend.

Lunch time sees groups of students on the lawn and in back of the gym as Roger Nelson patrols the campus in his golf cart.
Many times I have heard the saying, “as people grow older, the years grow shorter.” If that is true, then this year will be one of the shortest I remember. In September I made a personal goal to present a yearbook that would at least make the memories last. While this yearbook is full of reflections of the past school year, the students found smiling in the pictures have another world of memories as well. Behind every toothy grin and gleaming eye is someone dealing with thoughts of the war against Iraq and the war for the environment. A few times over the past year it did seem like there was nothing to smile about. I wanted to make sure the pictures in this book would give us proof that there is something to smile about—our futures. Sure high school years can be the best years of a persons life, but life doesn’t stop around the age of eighteen. I think my generation has realized that high school is a strong foundation that is meant to be built upon. So, as we all embark on our futures I would like to end with a different saying. “You can’t always be young, but you can be immature.” So enjoy life and make each year the best and it will last a little longer.

"I'll lend you for a little while,
A child of mine," He said.
"For you to love while he lives,
And mourn when he is dead.
He may be six or seven years,
Or twenty-two or three,
But will you 'till I call him back,
Take care of him for me?
He'll bring his charms to gladden you,
And shall his stay be brief,
You'll have his lovely memories
As solace for your grief.
I cannot promise he will stay,
As all from earth return,
But there are lessons taught down there,
I want this child to learn.
I've looked the wide world over,
In my search for teachers true,
And from the throngs that crowd life's lane,
I have selected you.
Now will you give him all your love-
Not think the labor vain,
Nor hate me when I come to call,
To take him back again.'
"I fancied when I heard them say,
'Dear Lord, thy will be done.'
For all the joy this child shall bring,
The risk of grief will run.
We'll shower him with tenderness,
And love him while we may,
And for the happiness we've known,
Forever grateful stay.
And should the angels call for him,
Much sooner that we planned,
We'll brave the bitter grief that comes,
And try to understand."

KANE COLLINS THOMPSON

If any one person truly lived up to the Spirit of Friendship, it would have to be Kane. Kane had the uncanny ability to reach out and touch his friends without saying a word. His zest and flare for life has given us many joyous memories. It was Kane who showed us that growing up can be fun. We are the lucky ones for knowing him and having the honor of being his friend in return. In the simplest words we loved him, because, he was Kane.
